Minimise the Reach of Breach
Arm consumers with data, communication and control

As a leading global information and insights company, TransUnion aims to make trust possible between consumers and businesses. Because trust is never more valuable or vulnerable than during a data breach, we offer a series of integrated solutions that help turn potential disasters into empowering dialogues.

With TransUnion Credit Information Alerts and Dark Web Monitoring, businesses can enable affected people to monitor and detect signs of identity theft – and respond in real time to reduce the impact of a breach. In addition, TransUnion Data Breach Solutions support businesses with crisis communications management, helping them rebuild trust and confidence with consumers.

Whether you’re looking for proactive contingency or immediate support with an active incident, TransUnion can help you rapidly and effectively respond and remediate. Find us at stand 26 or connect with Mark Read via email or LinkedIn.

* A survey of 500 UK businesses was conducted on behalf of TransUnion between 23 July and 2 August 2021. The study spanned a wide range of sectors and ranged from small businesses of less than 50 employees to large organisations with 500 or more staff.
