Asian Privacy Certification

Outline of the Body of Knowledge for the Certified Information Privacy Professional/Asia (CIPP/A)

I. Privacy Fundamentals

A. Modern Privacy Principles
   b. The Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) privacy principles
   c. Fair Information Practices (FIPs)
   d. Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948)

B. Adequacy and the Rest of the World a. Europe and the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)
   b. Deemed adequate: New Zealand, Canada, Israel, Argentina, Uruguay
   c. United States and the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield
   d. Deemed not adequate: Australia, Mexico, Korea, Taiwan

C. Elements of personal information
   a. Personal data (EU) (HK) (SG)
   b. Personally identifiable information (U.S.) c. Sensitive personal data information (IND)
   d. Pseudonymisation, de-identification and anonymisation II. Singapore Privacy Laws and Practices

A. Legislative history and origins
   a. Singapore government and legal system
      i. Political structure
   b. Social attitudes toward privacy and data protection
   c. Surveillance and identification
   d. Constitutional protections
   e. Common law protections
   f. Sector-specific protections

B. Personal Data Protection Act 2012 (PDPA)
   a. Application and scope ii. Extraterritorial reach iii. PDPA definitions
         a. Personal data
         b. ‘Business contact information’
         c. ‘Data intermediary’
         d. Publicly available
         e. Survivorship
      iv. Do Not Call Registry
         a. ‘Specified message’
      v. PDPA in an employment setting vi. Exemptions
         a. Public-sector
         b. Response to emergency
         c. National interest
         d. Investigations in legal proceedings
         e. Evaluative purposes
         f. Journalism and media
   b. Key concepts and practices
      i. Data protection officer ii. Staff training
      iii. Consent and exceptions to consent
      iv. Use
      v. Disclosure
      vi. Safeguarding/Security
      vii. Accountability and openness viii. Access and correction ix. Retention and deletion
x. Transfer out

C. Enforcement

a. Monetary Authority of Singapore
   i. Regulations and guidelines ii. ‘Notices on Prevention of Money Laundering and Countering the Financing of Terrorism’ iii. Individual’s access and rights iv. Protection of customer data
   v. Outsourcing
b. Personal Data Protection Commission (PDPC)
c. Decision in appealed commissioner rulings, complaints i. Complaint-based vs. audit-based
d. Commissioner guidance and published positions
e. Managing consent opt-out mechanisms: their use and limitations, consent to new purposes and documentation
f. Penalties and sanctions
g. Policy development and implementation i. Freedom of information legislation ii. Data transfers: doctrine of privity of contract for third-parties

III. Hong Kong Privacy Laws and Practices

A. Legislative history and origins
   a. Hong Kong government and legal system
   b. Social attitudes toward privacy and data protection
   c. Surveillance and identification
   d. Constitutional protections
   e. Common law protections
B. Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance (PDPO):
   a. Application and scope
      i. PDPO definitions
         a. Personal data
         b. Publicly available data
         c. Sensitive personal data
         d. ‘Prescribed consent’ e. Rights of data subject ii. Personal Data (Privacy) (Amendment) Ordinance 2012
         a. ‘The New Guidance on Direct Marketing’
iii. Exemptions
   a. Journalism and news media
b. Key concepts and practices
   i. Six Data Protection Principles (DPPs) and the Internet Data Guidance
      1. DPP1: Data Collections
      2. DPP2: Accuracy and retention
      3. DPP3: Data Use
      4. DPP4: Data security
      5. DPP5: Openness
      6. DPP6: Data access and correction ii. Due diligence exemption and exercise iii. Guidance on Personal Data Erasure and Anonymisation iv. Guidance on employment matters
   v. Data Transfer/Export, Ordinance Section 33
      a. Data processors
      b. Model contracts

C. Enforcement
   a. The Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data
   b. Commissioner rules
   c. Commissioner guidance and published positions
      i. Octopus Rewards Ltd.
   d. Decisions in appealed commissioner rulings, complaints
   e. Personal Data (Privacy) Advisory Committee
   f. Managing consent opt-out mechanisms: their use and limitations, consent to new purposes and documentation
   g. Enforcement notice
   h. Policy development and implementation
      i. Law reform proposals for third-party benefit exception
   i. Privacy incidents: trends in commissioner expectations

IV. India Privacy Law and Practices

A. Legislative history and origins
   a. Indian government and legal system
      i. Political structure
   b. Social attitudes toward privacy and data protection
   c. Surveillance and identification
      i. Credit Information Companies (Regulation) Act 2005
   d. Constitutional protections
      i. Article 21
ii. The Right to Information Act 2005
iii. The Protection of Human Rights Act 1993
e. Common law protections

B. Information Technology Act 2000 (IT Act)
   a. Application and scope
      i. Information Technology Act 2000
         a. Section 43
         b. Section 66A and its removal
      ii. Information Technology (Amendment) Act 2008 (ITAA)
         a. Section 43A
         b. Definitions
            i. Personal data
            ii. Sensitive personal data iii. Body corporate
            iv. Rights of data subjects

   iii. Exemptions
      a. Religious and social, charitable organisations
      b. Non-commercial organisations
      c. Non-automated data

   b. Section 43A and the 2011 Rules: Rules 3-8
      i. Privacy policies required: Rule 3 ii. Data protection principles: Rule 4 a. Consent and purpose limitation
         b. Lawful purpose and minimal collection
         c. Notice and purpose limitation
         d. Retention
         e. Use
         f. Subject access and correction
         g. Option to refuse or withdraw consent
         h. Security
         i. Complaint handling iii. Disclosure imitations and exceptions: Rule 5 iv. Data processing: Rule 6
      v. Data export restriction: Rule 7
      vi. Reasonable security: Rule 8

C. Enforcement
   a. The Ministry of Communication and Information Technology
   b. The Department of Electronics and Information (DeitY)
   c. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) and Do Not Call Registry
      i. Banning Free Basics and Net Neutrality
d. Commissioner rulings, appeals and complaints

e. Penalties and sanctions i. IT Act Sections 43(b) and (g) ii. IT Act Sections 72 and 72A

f. Commissioner guidance and published positions

g. Grievance officers

h. Managing consent opt-out mechanisms: their use and limitations, consent to new purposes and documentation

i. Policy development and implementation
   i. Data transfers: doctrine of privity of contract for third-parties

j. Public-sector exemption

V. Common themes among principle frameworks

A. Comparing protections and principles i. Sensitive data protections ii. Children’s data protections iii. Natural persons vs. legal persons iv. Data breach notification
   v. Public Registers
   vi. Surveillance
      a. National identity systems
         i. SingPass
         ii. HKID
         iii. India’s UIDAI
      b. Legislation
         j. Hong Kong: PCDP Code of Practice on Identity Card Number and Other Personal Identifiers, 1997
   vii. Data processing and export viii. Intermediaries
   ix. Extraterritorial operations

B. Rights of the data subject
   i. ‘Domestic’ use
   ii. Breadth of exemption
      a. Hong Kong
         i. Chinese central government organisations ii. Media
      b. Singapore
         i. Public-sector
         ii. Public authorities
         iii. Publicly available information iv. ‘Public agency’
v. Business contracted by Singapore government

c. India
   i. Limited application for ‘sensitive data’ ii. Limited application to ‘providers’ not data subjects iii. Freedom of speech
   iv. Lack of openness