Despite the upheaval of the past year, the job market in the field of privacy has remained strong. Although remote and at home, privacy professionals continue their work, few privacy jobs have been lost and most roles are paid even more today than just a few years ago.

Average Salary for Privacy Pros

$141,000

2021

+$6,000

Since 2019

6 in 10 privacy pros received a raise over the past year

75% received an average of $21,000 in additional compensation

Highest Paid Privacy Pros

Chief Privacy Officer (CPO)

$200,000

Median Salary

On average, compared to women, men earn

+9% globally

+14% in the U.S.

Privacy Pros Raising the Bar

$5,000 per year

If you have at least 1 IAPP certification

$15,000 per year

If you have multiple IAPP certifications

The biggest driver of satisfaction was how interesting their work was.

The Future of Work Post-COVID

90% of privacy professionals were working mostly or entirely from home as of March 2021.

50% of privacy pros expect to have a hybrid work arrangement after the pandemic ends.

Visit iapp.org/resources for more information on the 2021 Privacy Professionals Salary Survey.